

Insurance for visitors

- ❖ To mitigate risk, it is in Emory's best interest for sponsored visitors to carry liability insurance either through their home institutions or through stand-alone commercial insurance programs.
- ❖ If neither option is feasible, departments should contact Office of Insurance Services to determine coverage needs and arrange for temporary coverage.
- ❖ While general liability insurance can typically be provided at no cost, a charge may be required for professional liability coverage longer than two months.

